

Regarding code requirements for amateur radio licenses.

1. I believe that code test requirements should be retained for all HF band operating privileges.
2. CW is the most reliable form of communication on HF.
3. CW is valuable for emergency communication (particularly for reliable long-range paths).
4. I am concerned that equipment manufacturers will delete the CW mode from HF equipment if the operator licensing does not require it.